Yep that's one of us !

Our trip to England

On our way to England, we took the Eurotunnel and the coach parked inside the train, in which the atmosphere was weird. During our trip, we visited 3 cities : Rochester, London and finally Brighton. So, we are going to speak about our favorite aspects of each city.

1 – Rochester

So, first, when we arrived in Rochester, we were welcomed by a friendly atmosphere alongside lively streets full of teenagers dressed in uniforms. We all ate near the Rochester castle, then we had free time in the main street and we had a great time visiting original stores.

After, we absolutely loved visiting the cathedral, especially the lovely garden surrounded by ruins. Lastly, a guide showed us some parts of the city as well as the Restoration House which Manon loved.

The funniest part about this day was that our classmates played in a pond, searching for some weird animals while, luckily for them, the teachers weren't looking !

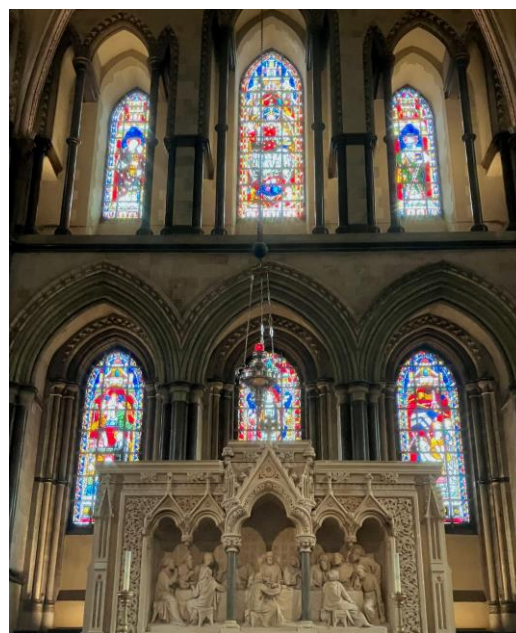

However, at the end of the day, we wish we had visited the Rochester castle because it seemed interesting.

2- London

During our second day, in London, we were fond of hanging out in the streets, in addition we got the chance to observe tags and the street art in London. We also walked through the Saint James park, furthermore we discovered the cute squirrels that live in this area.

During the afternoon, we took a tour in the London Eye, and it was amazing ! We could see Big Ben, and at some point, it felt like we were in the sky !

This day, we wished we had more free time to go shopping and walk around the streets.

3 - Brighton

Our last day was in Brighton, a beautiful and lively city next to the sea, with its stunning beaches, where we could discover an awesome palace: the Royal Pavilion. The inside of the palace was as beautiful as the outside, with a luxurious but harmonious decoration. We took our funniest pictures, and learned more about dinning etiquette during this period, too.

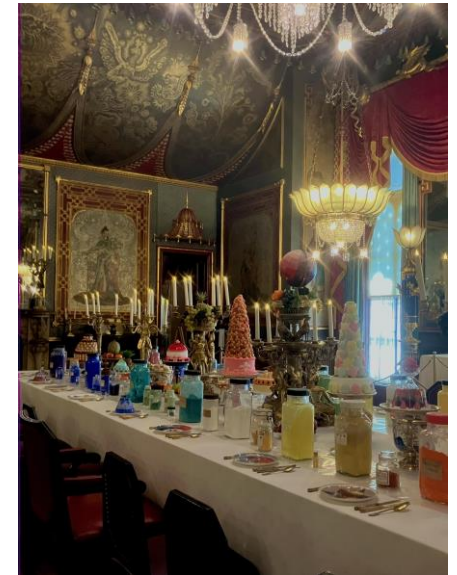

However, we were disappointed to have spent so little time near the sea. In fact, if only we hadn't shopped during a long time, we could have enjoyed the breathtaking view of the sea and Brighton Pier.

On the other hand, the streets were amusing, with a lot of street art everywhere !

Conclusion of the past few days

In conclusion, our school trip was amazing, moreover we learned a lot of things such as proper etiquette linked to the Royal Pavilion. The atmosphere in the bus was fantastic, and on top of that, our host family was friendly and they also had a cat named Milo. The house was cosy too. It was an overall marvelous trip !
